III. CHARACTER ANALYSIS (140 words = 28%)

A. Main Character - Wilbur:

- Personality: Innocent, emotional, dependent → becomes grateful and mature
- Motivation: Wants to survive and keep his friend
- Character arc: Starts scared and helpless; learns meaning of true friendship through Charlotte's sacrifice
- Theme connection: Represents the recipient of selfless love

B. Main Character - Charlotte:

- Personality: Wise, resourceful, compassionate

- Motivation: Saves Wilbur because "a life is a life" regardless of species
- Character arc: Remains constant in loyalty; weakens physically but grows in impact
- Theme connection: Embodies selfless friendship and sacrifice

C. Supporting Character - Templeton:

- Role: Selfish rat who helps only when bribed
- Significance: Contrasts with Charlotte's selflessness, showing different relationship types

IV. THEME DISCUSSION (140 words = 28%)

A. Theme #1: True friendship requires sacrifice

- Evidence: "After all, what's a life, anyway? We're born, we live a little while, we die" (p. 164)
- Explanation: Charlotte gives her life energy to save Wilbur, expecting nothing in return. This shows friendship as action, not just feeling.
- Connection: Supports thesis about friendship transcending self-interest

B. Theme #2: Differences don't prevent deep connection

- Evidence: Spider and pig become best friends despite natural food chain
- Explanation: Charlotte sees Wilbur's worth beyond species. Their friendship crosses boundaries society says shouldn't be crossed.
- Connection: Proves thesis that real friendship transcends differences

C. Theme #3: Impact outlasts individual lives

- Evidence: Charlotte's children continue the friendship; Wilbur never forgets her

Explanation: Though Charlotte dies, her influence remains through legacy and memory

- Connection: Shows friendship's "lasting impact beyond individual lives" (thesis)

V. CONCLUSION (35 words = 7%)

- A. Summary:
Charlotte's sacrifice, Wilbur's transformation, and their unlikely bond prove White's message about friendship's power.
- B. Significance:
The story teaches readers that true friends act selflessly and create lasting change.
- C. Final Thought:
Charlotte may die, but her friendship never does—it lives in Wilbur's heart and her children's webs.
